

Chapter-17

Public Representatives

Free, fair and timely election is the foremost indicator of a nation-state's true democratic character as it gives people the right to choose their own Government. India is a country, divided into states and union territories, with a parliamentary system governed by the Constitution of India, which defines the power distribution among the federal government and governments of the states and Union Territories (UTs).

The General Elections to Lok Sabha, and the General Elections to State Legislative Assembly are being held since independence. The 17th General Election to Lok Sabha (the Parliament's lower house) held in 2019 and the 15th General Election to State Legislative Assembly held in 2018 were the last election held in the district. In addition to these, elections to Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) and Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs) are also being held since 1960¹ in order to allow deeper penetration of decentralization.

Election Department²

The Election Commission of India (ECI) is a constitutional body under the ownership of Ministry of Law and Justice, Government of India. It was established on 25th January 1950 by the Constitution of India to conduct and regulate elections in the country. Article 324 of the Constitution provides that the power of superintendence, direction, and control of elections to parliament, state legislatures, the office of the president of India, and the office of vice-president of India shall be vested in the election commission. Thus, the Election Commission is an all-India body in the sense that it is common to both the Central government and the state governments.

The State Election Commission (SEC), Rajasthan was constituted in July 1994 under Article 243K of the Constitution of India. The SEC is a single member Commission headed by the State Election Commissioner

At the state level, Election Commission is assisted by the Chief Electoral Officer of the State, who is an IAS officer of Principal Secretary rank. At the district and constituency levels, the District Magistrates (in their capacity as District Election Officers), Electoral Registration Officers and Returning Officers perform election work. The Commission discharges its Constitutional duty by way of preparing electoral rolls and holding elections for Panchayati Raj Institutions as well as for Municipal bodies.

Elections to the Lok Sabha

Since its reconstitution as a separate district in 1994, citizens of Hanumangarh district are represented in the Lok Sabha by two Members of Parliament (MPs); the MP elected from Ganganagar (SC) (1) Parliamentary Constituency and the MP from Churu (3) Parliamentary Constituency. Assembly Constituencies Sangaria (7), Hanumangarh (8) and Pilibanga (SC) (9) are part of the Ganganagar (SC) (1) Parliamentary Constituency, whereas Churu (3) Parliamentary Constituency contains Assembly Constituencies Nohar (10) and Bhadra (11).

In the First Lok Sabha General Election of 1952, the district was majorly a part of the then Ganganagar Parliamentary Constituency. For the Second Lok Sabha General Elections, 1957, the present-day district was covered in the then Bikaner Parliamentary Constituency. From the Third Lok Sabha General Elections, 1962, up to the Fifth General Elections, 1971, Ganganagar Parliamentary Constituency represented the district. Since then, for all elections the Ganganagar Parliamentary Constituency and the Churu Parliamentary Constituency represented the area that lies in present district. The former has remained a reserved seat for Scheduled Castes candidates, whereas the latter has been an unreserved seat. Following is a brief about all Lok Sabha elections held after formation of Hanumangarh district in 1994.

Lok Sabha General Election, 1996

A total of 5,16,622 persons came out to vote in this election at the Ganganagar seat, whereas in Churu the number of voters was 5,95,501. These were 43.78 percent and 51.31 percent of the total electors respectively. The number of candidates was considerably high at both seats; 20 in Ganganagar and 35 in Churu. Shri Nihal Chand of the BJP went on to represent Ganganagar in the Lok Sabha and Sh. Narendra Budania of the INC won from Churu constituency.

Lok Sabha General Election, 1998

The voting percentage was comparatively higher this time; 60.64 percent of 11,96,723 electors came out to vote in Ganganagar, and at Churu the number was 63.89 percent of 11,41,518 electors. But the number of candidates had significantly declined, 7 and 11 respectively. INC's Sh. Shankar Pannu won at Ganganagar, and his party compatriot Sh. Narendra Budania retained his seat from Churu.

Lok Sabha General Election, 1999

The electorate in these elections comprised of 12,69,075 individuals in Ganganagar. Percentage of voting was down to 52.8 percent. A total of 7 candidates contested the election. BJP's Sh. Nihal Chand made a comeback after having lost the last time. In Churu, a number of electors was 12,39,736. Out of them, over 55 percent casted their votes. Here 8 candidates contested. Sh. Ram Singh Kaswan of the BJP emerged victorious.

Lok Sabha General Election, 2004

In this election number of electors reached 13,37,857 in Ganganagar. Total 6 contestants participated in the election on this seat. Sh. Nihal Chand Meghwal of the BJP emerged victorious. Voting percentage was over 54.07 percent. In Churu, there were 13,71,821 electors of which 60.04 percent turned out to vote. 9 candidates contested in the election. Sh. Ram Singh Kaswan retained his seat.

Lok Sabha General Election, 2009

A total of 9,09,629 persons came out to vote in this election for the Ganganagar seat, whereas in Churu the number of voters was 8,01,867. These were 60.97 percent and 52.41 percent of the total electors respectively. The number of candidates was considerably high this time; 15 in each. Sh. Bharat Ram Meghwal from INC won at Ganganagar, and BJP's Sh. Ram Singh Kaswan won at Churu consecutively for the third term.

Lok Sabha General Election, 2014

The voting percentage was comparatively higher this time; 73.14 percent of 17,18,414 electors came out to vote in Ganganagar, and at Churu the number was 64.49 percent of 17,53,825 electors. The number of contesting candidates was 18 and 13 respectively. BJP won at Ganganagar with Sh. Nihal Chand becoming the MP from here subsequently, whereas Churu continued to be a BJP bastion for the 4th consecutive time, though with a different candidate Sh. Rahul Kaswan.

Lok Sabha General Election, 2019

In the latest elections to the lower house of Indian Parliament, voting percentage was again very high. In Ganganagar, nearly 75 percent electors or 14,51,765 persons came out to vote, and in Churu, more than 65 percent or 13,28,422 persons casted their votes. 10 and 13 candidates were in fray respectively. BJP emerged triumphant at both the seats; Sh. Nihal Chand retained his Ganganagar constituency while Sh. Rahul Kaswan returned as the MP of Churu.

Following are the summary statistics of all the aforementioned elections.

Notable Members of Parliament

Names and description of some notable Members of Parliament from the two Parliamentary Constituencies are given below.

Shri Nihal Chand Chauhan

The sitting Member of Parliament Sh. Nihal Chand Chauhan has represented the Ganganagar Parliamentary Constituency in 11th, 13th, 14th, 16th, and 17th Lok Sabha. He served as the Minister of State (MoS), Ministry of Panchayati Raj from 09.11.2014 to 05.07.2016, and as the Union Minister of State, Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilisers from 27.05.2014 to 09.11.2014. His term in the 17th Lok Sabha is his 5th term as the Member of Parliament from Ganganagar. Consequent to his long experience, he has previously served as member of various parliamentary committees, including Standing Committee on Human Resource Development (01.09.2016 – 25.05.2019), Standing Committee on Health & Family Welfare (05.08.2007), Standing Committee on Agriculture (2004), Committee on Private Members' Bills and Resolutions (2000-2004) Consultative Committee, Ministry of Defence (2000-2004), and Standing Committee on Science & Technology, Environment & Forests (1999-2000). At present, he is a member of Committee on Government Assurances (09.10.2019 onwards), of Consultative Committee, Ministry of Culture and Tourism (09.10.2019 onwards) and of Committee on Estimates (01.05.2020 onwards). He started his political career as the Pradhan of Raisingh Nagar Panchayat Samiti (Ganganagar district) in 1995-96.

Women Representation⁵

The state of women representation in the General Elections to Lok Sabha from the two constituencies is miserable. It was only in as late as 1991 that the first female candidate also contested. None of the major parties had fielded a female candidate before that. Most of the female candidates who contested the election were independent. No female has ever been elected as the Member of Parliament. A review of female candidates and their electoral performance is given in Appendix-I.

Elections to the Legislative Assembly⁶

At present, Hanumangarh district elects 5 Members of Legislative Assembly to the State Vidhan Sabha. The Assembly Constituencies are Sangaria (7), Hanumangarh (8), Pilibanga (SC) (9), Nohar (10) and Bhadra (11). This arrangement has been operational since the 2008 Vidhan Sabha election. Prior to that, the seat matrix of Hanumangarh district had undergone consistent changes since the first election in 1952.

Following is a brief about all Vidhan Sabha elections held since independence.

Vidhan Sabha General Election, 1952

During these elections, there were two constituencies named Bhadra and Nohar, both seats were unreserved. The number of electors were 46,036 and 44,601, and voting percentage was 51.38 and 49.95 respectively. 4 candidates contested on the Bhadra seat among whom Sh. Hansraj emerged victorious, whereas the number was 3 in Nohar among whom Sh. Manphool Singh was the winner. Both elected MLAs belonged to INC. Following are the summary statistics of the State Assembly Elections 1952.

Table 17.3: Statistical Summary of State Assembly Elections 1952 held in district⁷

Nohar	Unreserved	3	44601	22280	49.95	Sh. Manphool Singh	INC

Vidhan Sabha General Election, 1957

Nohar and Hanumangarh were the two constituencies for these elections representing this area. 29,313 voters or 52.45 percent electors came out to vote in Nohar and in Hanumangarh the number of voters was 35,698 which was 66.05 of the total electorate. Nohar then was a dual constituency, and in total 5 candidates contested on it. Sh. Dharmpal (INC) and Sh. Ram Kishan (Independent) were elected. At Hanumangarh constituency, another independent candidate Sh. Shyopat Singh defeated 1 other contestant to become the MLA. Following are the summary statistics of the State Assembly Elections 1957.

The summary statistics of all state assembly elections held in the district given in Appendix-II.

Women Representation²²

The state of women representation in Vidhan Sabha elections is slightly better than in Lok Sabha elections, but it is still not adequate and fair for being fair. In the last election held in 2018, out of the 58 candidates in fray field at all seats, only 3 were women. Post the district's formation, 3 Members of Legislative Assembly (MLAs) were women. The last female MLA to be elected was Ms. Dropati in 2013 on Pilibanga seat who belonged to the BJP. Female candidates and their electoral performance are given in Appendix-III.

Elections to Panchayati Raj Institutions²³

Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs) is the blanket term used to refer to various levels of local self-government in rural areas of the country. After the 73rd Constitutional Amendment in 1993, elections have been held at all the three levels nationwide – Gram Panchayat (village level), Panchayat Samiti (block level), and Zila Parishad (district level). Though in Rajasthan, such elections were being conducted since 1960. The first such election was conducted in 1960 by the Panchayat Department. Thereafter, the second, third, fourth and fifth elections were conducted in the years 1965, 1978, 1981 and 1988 respectively by the Election Department. Following the amendment in 1993, the State Election Commission (SEC) of Rajasthan was constituted in July 1994 under Article 243K of the Constitution of India. Consequently, the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth general elections to the PRIs were conducted by the SEC in 1995, 2000, 2005 and 2010. The last was the tenth general election which was held in 2015.

The SEC is a single member Commission with the State Election Commissioner at the top or head. It has a Secretary who is also the Chief Electoral Officer for the State. The Commission discharges its Constitutional duty by the way of preparing electoral rolls and holding elections for Panchayati Raj Institutions, as well as Urban Local Bodies.

The Panchayati Raj system in Hanumangarh is as usual a three-tier system. Elections are held for Zila Parishad (district level body), Panchayat Samitis (block level bodies) and Gram Panchayats (village level bodies). The first elections to all Panchayati Raj Institutions were held in 1995, right after the reconstitution. Since then, elections have been held every 5 years. A list of Panchayat Samiti wise Gram Panchayat and Revenue Village is attached in Appendix-IV.

Delimitation Exercise²⁴

Since the reconstitution of Hanumangarh as a district, three delimitation exercises have taken place. While the organization of Hanumangarh Zila Parishad has remained static throughout these exercises, the Panchayat Samitis and Gram Panchayats have undergone changes. The first delimitation exercise was carried out in 1994, right after the district formation. Three Panchayat Samitis were thence formed, namely Bhadra, Hanumangarh and Nohar. A total of 251 Gram Panchayats were formed. Number of Gram Panchayats in each of these Samitis was as follows.

1.	Bhadra	49
2.	Hanumangarh	121
3.	Nohar	81

The second delimitation exercise was held in 2010. The number of Panchayat Samitis was increased to seven; Pilibanga, Rawatsar, Sangaria and Tibbi were newly formed. The number of Gram Panchayats remained unchanged, but there was a reorganization among the Panchayat Samitis. Number of Gram Panchayats in each of these Samitis was as follows.

Following is a brief about elections held in all these years across all institutions.²⁵

Zila Parishad²⁶

Zila Parishad or District Council functions as the apex Panchayati Raj Institution. Members are elected by the general public. In addition, heads of all Panchayat Samitis in the district as well as Member(s) of Parliament and Member(s) of Legislative Assembly are ex-officio members of the Zila Parishad. A Zila Pramukh (Chairperson) and a Zila Up-Pramukh (Vice-Chairperson) are elected among the elected members of the Parishad.

Elections to the Hanumangarh Zila Parishad were held in 1995, 2000, 2005, 2010 and 2015. A brief description is provided below, following which statistical summary about the overall outcome is provided and the reservation scheme and outcome by gender and category can be found in Appendix-V and Appendix-VI Respectively.

Women Representation

The place of women has been important in India since ancient times. After independence, women have been registering their presence in each region. Whether it is in the field of science or art, literature, security, sports etc. Women are ahead in all fields. Governments are also taking several steps to move them forward. So that they can stand on their feet and bring change in the society. In view of this, one-third (33%) reservation in panchayats has been given to women in the 73rd Amendment-1992 of the Constitution. At present, this reservation limit has been increased upto 50%. in order to increase the participation of women in the Panchayati Raj system.

The state of women representation in district Zila-Parishad elections is comparatively better than in Lok Sabha elections, but it is still far from adequate or fair. Till the last election of Zila Parishad held in 2010, only two women Ms. Damyanti Beniwal from INC and Ms. Shobha Singh Dudi from INC won the election of Zila Pramukh in 2000 and 2010 respectively.

Women Representation

The representation of women in the Panchayat Samiti elections in the district continuously increasing. In the year 2000 Krishna Devi created history by winning the election of the Pradhan (first time by any female candidate) of Hanumangarh Panchayat Samiti. In this order, in 2005 elections, Mrs. Urmila won the election of Pradhan from the Nohar Panchayat Samiti. In the year 2010, 3 women candidates won the election and elected as Pradhan. Similarly, in 2015 elections 4 women won the election of Pradhan. Rajni from Sangaria Panchayat Samiti, Amandeep Kaur from Tibbi Panchayat Samiti, Seema from Rawatsar Panchayat Samiti and Santosh from Bhadra Panchayat Samiti increased the ratio of the number of women elected as Pradhan in the district.

Women Representation

After the 73rd constitution, the status of women is constantly changing with the reservation of women in the Panchayati Raj. This has led to increased participation of women in Panchayati Raj institutions. Today, about 32 lakh representatives are coming from 2.5 lakh panchayats in the country. Of these, over 14 lakh are women, which is 46.14% of the total elected members. More and more women are now participating in politics through Panchayati Raj. In the last General elections of gram Panchayat 125 females were elected as Sarpanch out of total 251 seats in the district.

Urban Local Bodies

Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) were constituted after the 74th Amendment to the Constitution in 1992. Three kinds of ULBs exist in the country - Nagar Panchayat / Municipality / Municipal Board (for an area in transition from a rural area to an urban area), Municipal Council (for a smaller urban area); and Municipal Corporation (for a larger urban area)³². Although elections to these bodies in Rajasthan date back to 1963, when the first general election was conducted by Election Department.

Thereafter, consequent to the differing dates of end of tenure of different municipalities, elections to these bodies have been conducted in groups. These have been held in 1970, 1972, 1974, 1976, 1982, and 1986. Following the formation of State Election Commission after the amendment in 1992, General Elections to 45 Municipal bodies were conducted by the SEC in 1994 and to 137 Municipal bodies in 1995, across the state.

First elections to the Hanumangarh Municipal Council were held in 1994. In addition to the Municipal Council, there are five Municipal Boards in the district as well, and the first elections to them were held in 1995. Since then, elections to the Municipal Corporation and Municipal Boards have been held every 5 years. Following is a brief about each of these elections.³³

Municipal Council³⁴

Since the formation of Hanumangarh as a district in 1994, there has been one Municipal Council at the district headquarters itself. Hanumangarh Municipal Council has seen elections in 1994, 1999, 2004, 2009, 2014 and 2019. Following is a brief description of each of these elections, and statistical summaries pertaining to overall outcome is given afterwards and those about reservation scheme and outcome by gender and category are available in Appendix-XI and Appendix-XII.

Women Representation

The participation of women in the urban local body's elections in the district has also been increased. In the year 2000 Ms. Maniyan Devi and Ms. Sampat Devi created history by winning the election of Chairperson in Nohar and Bhadra Municipality respectively. In Municipality election 2010, Mrs. Shakila Devi won the election of chairperson from the Pilibanga Municipality. In the year 2015, two women Mrs. Neelam – Rawatsar Municipality, Mrs. Raheesha Bano – Bhadra Municipality won the election of chairperson of the Municipality.

District Election Machinery

As elections are held at a very large scale, with the number of booths reaching up to thousands and number of voters up to lakhs, a robust election machinery in the district is a prerequisite for the proper conduct of elections.

At the apex of the district election machinery is the District Election Officer (DEO). He / she is an officer of the state government, appointed by the Election Commission of India (ECI) in consultation with the State Government. The District Magistrate is generally designated as the DEO. Then there is the Returning Officer (RO) of a parliamentary or assembly constituency who is responsible for the conduct of elections in the parliamentary or assembly constituency. The Election Commission of India nominates or designates an officer of the Government or a local authority as the RO for each of the assembly and parliamentary constituencies in consultation with the State Government. In addition, the Election Commission of India also appoints one or more Assistant Returning Officers (ARO) for each of the assembly and parliamentary constituencies to assist the Returning Officer in the performance of his functions in connection with the conduct of elections.

There are certain Electoral Registration Officers (EROs), who are responsible for the preparation of electoral rolls for a parliamentary / assembly constituency. The Additional District Magistrate and the Sub Divisional Magistrate of the District are designated as the Electoral Registration Officers of the respective constituencies. The ERO is assisted by the Assistant Electoral Registration Officer (AERO) in each constituency.

At each polling station are the Polling Officers, who are headed by the Presiding Officer, and who are all appointed by the District Election Officer. At the grassroot level, there are the Booth Level Officers (BLO). They report to the AERO. The number of the BLOs varies in each constituency, depending on the number of Polling Stations.

Political Parties

Indian National Congress, Bharatiya Janata Party, Bahujan Samaj Party, Communist Party of India and Communist Party of India - Marxist are the most prominent political parties contesting in general election in the district. INC, BJP and BSP are recognized as national parties by the Election Commission of India. The election results also show the hold of these parties among general public.

Indian National Congress (INC)

The Indian National Congress is not only the oldest political party of India, it is also one of the earliest forms of political organization in the country. INC's symbol is Hand. The party's state unit is called the Rajasthan Pradesh Congress Committee, which has representations in each district under the name of District Congress Committees. The District Congress Committee, Hanumangarh is headed by a President. The organization extends further to the block level, where block presidents are appointed for all blocks.

Party candidates contest elections at all levels. In the last General Election to Lok Sabha held in 2019, party candidates stood runners-up on both the seats Ganganagar and Churu. In the last General Elections to Vidhan Sabha held in 2018, two out of the 5 assembly constituencies in the district – Nohar and Hanumangarh – were captured by INC candidates. In Pilibanga and Sangaria, the party candidates stood second, and in Bhadra, the party candidate came third.

Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP)

The Bharatiya Janata Party was formed in 1980 and traces back its origins to the Bharatiya Jan Sangh (BJS). The BJS was also an important political party at the time of its existence. The BJP is currently the world's largest political party, in terms of primary membership. Lotus is BJP's symbol. The party has units at the state and district levels. The District unit of BJP in Hanumangarh is led by the president who is assisted by a team comprising of several members like the District IT Convenor, District Media Head and District Teams of Yuva Morcha, ST Morcha and OBC Morcha.

Candidates from the party participate in elections at all levels. The incumbent MPs from Ganganagar and Churu Parliamentary Constituencies are both from the BJP. In General Elections to Vidhan Sabha 2018, BJP candidates won at Sangaria and Pilibanga seats. In Hanumangarh, Nohar and Bhadra, they stood second.

Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP)

The Bahujan Samaj Party was formed in 1984. It seeks to represent Bahujans (literally means "people in majority"), referring to Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, and Other Backward Classes (OBC), along with religious minorities. The party has its foundation and base in Uttar Pradesh, but regularly contests elections held in other north and north-western states, of which Rajasthan is one. Its electoral symbol is Elephant.

The party has fielded candidates in all Vidhan Sabha elections since 1994 at all Assembly Constituencies. This is true for all Lok Sabha elections at Ganganagar and Churu Parliamentary Constituencies as well, except in 2014 when the party did not contest at Ganganagar seat.

Communist Party of India (CPI)

The Communist Party of India is the oldest communist political party in India, founded in 1925 in Kanpur. It is one of the national parties in the country, as recognised by the Election Commission of India (ECI). Till date, it is one of the leading Left parties. Its electoral symbol is the Ears of Corn and Sickle.

The CPI has participated in most elections since the formation of the district on Ganganagar Parliamentary Constituency.

Communist Party of India – Marxist (CPIM)

The Communist Party of India – Marxist was formed in 1964, following a split of the Communist Party of India (CPI). It is also one of the country's national parties and also among its leading Left parties. The CPI (M) has committees in all states.

The sitting MLA from Bhadra belongs to the CPI (M). The party candidates have contested in most Lok Sabha and Vidhan Sabha elections since 1994.

Akhil Bharatiya Ram Rajya Parishad

Akhil Bharatiya Ram Rajya Parishad was a nationalist political party-Sanatan Indian political party founded by Swami Karpatri in 1948. The RRP won three Lok Sabha seats in the 1952 elections to the national Parliament and two in 1962. In 1952, 1957 and 1962, it won several dozen Vidhan Sabha seats, all in the Hindi belt, mostly in Rajasthan. Like other Hindutva-based parties, the RRP fought against the implementation of the Hindu code bills in India. The party eventually merged into the Jana Sangh, the precursor to the Bharatiya Janata Party.

A branch of Ram Rajya Parishad was established in the Hanumangarh, Nohar and Sangaria in the year 1950. At that time its members were about 3000. This party had contested three Vidhan Sabha seats during 1952 General Election but without any success securing only 6600 or 3.54 percent votes. It did not put any candidate during the succeeding elections.

Swatantra Party

This party was established just before the third General Elections and had set up its branches in major towns of the district. It unsuccessfully put up a candidate for Lok Sabha during the third General Elections, who secured 19,735 or 5.8 percent votes. In 1962, it did not contest any Vidhan Sabha seat while in 1967, it contested six Vidhan Sabha seats. It had made an election pact with Jan Sangh which contested two Vidhan Sabha seats. The Swatantra Party for the first time won one Assembly seat with 80,635 or 21.61 per cent votes in the district. Other Political Parties have not yet been able to make much head way in the district. The popularity of the various political parties can be assessed on the basis of their performance in the Assembly Elections only. Electoral performance (in terms of vote share in an election) of all the major political parties in Hanumangarh is captured in the following table.

The above table shows the vote share of different parties in Lok Sabha as well as Vidhan Sabha elections. While comparing these vote shares, it is observed that BJP and INC are the biggest parties in the district. The parties' candidates have on most occasions been in extremely close competition, and the winning one has managed to be inch ahead from his / her rival only marginally.

Students' Unions

The importance of students' representation and unions cannot be underestimated. In a young democracy like ours, students' unions provide a platform for the younger citizens to actively participate in decision making and groom themselves as future leaders. These association organises leisure activities, provide welfare services and represent student's political interests. These associations also act as pressure groups that can sway policy-making in directions integral to maximization of human resource potential and youth development.

There are four government colleges in the district – Government Nehru Memorial College, Hanumangarh; SNDB Government PG College, Nohar; Government College, Bhadra; and Government Girls' College, Hanumangarh.³⁹ Elections take place every year in these colleges, where the students elect their leader.

National Students' Union of India (NSUI)

The National Students' Union of India was formed in 1971. It has a presence in 15000 colleges across the country⁴⁰. There are 40 lakh members in this union and participates in students' union elections actively. It has bodies in all states and districts of Rajasthan. The NSUI-Hanumanarh is headed by a President.

Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP)

The Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad is the other students' union organization with a pan-India presence. It was started in 1948. It has representative bodies in all states, and it participates in all major students' union elections across the colleges and universities in country.

Neighbourhood and Mohalla Committees in Rural and Urban Areas

Mohalla committees are formed to look after colonies and neighbourhoods and increase community participation in developmental works in rural and urban areas. These committees/organizations are both registered and unregistered. In addition to resolving problems of the region through governmental organizations and public representatives, they have an important role to play as a pressure group to make their suggestions and decisions regarding developmental activities is to be undertaken. Thus, they seek to accomplish things in the public interest, move ahead faster and better than what can be done in an individual capacity. These committees are important for creating local security such as getting the gates installed, planting saplings, cleaning, taking care of water and power systems and coordinating with the local police, as well as for creating public awareness. For instance, committees may organize voter awareness drives and campaigns against social evils. These committees also organize social cultural programs and sports activities from time to time. The members of Mohalla Committees meet at regular intervals throughout the year. They discuss and solve issues relating to local problems or issues and disputes. Major decision taken during the meetings are disseminated to the community through its members.

Other Significant Organizations

Bhartiya Kisan Sangh (BKS)

Bharatiya Kisan Sangh was established on 4th March 1979 at Kota, Rajasthan. At that time, in Kota, several hundred workers working for the farmers in various fields, from all the states of this nation, assembled and after deep thought, discussion, and review with the guidance of Dattopanthji Thengdi, had unanimously decided to establish a nationwide organisation with the name "Bharatiya Kisan Sangh". Shri Thengdiji declared emphatically and in clear words that this "Organization would be a non-political body of the farmers, for the farmers and by the farmers". At present, it is the nation's largest organization of farmers. BKS works for welfare of farmers in district to unite and organise for the betterment of their financial social, cultural, educational, conditions and cottage industrial activity by making available stable avenues of livelihood and survival.

Election-related Initiatives

Electors Photo Identity Card (EPIC)⁴¹

With a view to preventing impersonation and to establish the identity of genuine elector at the time of poll, the election laws have made a provision of Electors Photo Identity Cards (EPIC) under Rule 28 of Registration of Electors Rules, 1960. EPIC is only an identity document and mere holding of an EPIC does not give any individual right to vote. This right is available only to those whose names are found in electoral roll. EPIC only establishes the identity of those whose names are there in the Electoral Roll to ensure that their right to vote is smoothly exercised. EPICs are issued only to the electors enrolled in the general rolls. Service voters and Overseas Indian electors are not issued EPICs.

A Unique EPIC Number is allotted to every elector whenever EPIC is issued to an elector for the first time. If replacement EPIC is issued to any elector for any reason, the replacement card will continue to bear the unique number assigned to the elector in the original EPIC i.e. which was made for the elector for the first time. Even when the elector ceases to be enrolled in the Electoral Roll, the aforesaid unique EPIC number will not be allotted to any other elector.

In the context of Hanumangarh, there is virtually a 100 percent coverage of the Electors Photo Identity Card in the district.

Following table gives details about coverage of EPIC in Final Roll 2020 to be published on 19.02.2020 in the district.

Electronic Voting Machines (EVM) and Voter Verifiable Paper Audit Trail (VVPAT)⁴³

One of the most significant reforms in the electoral process in the country is the introduction of Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) that replaced voting by the ballot paper. Electronic voting in India was first conceived in 1977. The Electronics Corporation of India Ltd. (ECIL), Hyderabad was assigned the task to design and develop it. In 1979 a proto type was developed, which was demonstrated by the Election Commission before the representatives of political parties on 6th August, 1980. The Bharat Electronic Ltd. (BHEL), Bangalore, another public-sector undertaking, was co-opted along with ECIL to manufacture EVMs once a broad consensus was reached on its introduction. First time use of EVMs occurred in the general election in Kerala in May 1982; however, the absence of a specific law prescribing its use led to the Supreme Court striking down that election. Subsequently, in 1989, the Parliament amended the Representation of the People Act, 1951 to create a provision for the use of EVMs in the elections. A general consensus on its introduction could be reached only in 1998 and these were used in 25 Legislative Assembly constituencies spread across three states, of which Rajasthan was one. In 2004 General Elections to Lok Sabha, EVMs were used nationwide for the first time. Since then, electronic voting has become the mainstay of elections in the country.

The benefits of electronic voting over the ballot paper are obvious. It helps to prevent fraudulent voting and counting of votes is also simplified greatly, which otherwise with an electorate of 900 million (2019 Lok Sabha elections) is a mammoth task. The EVMs are produced with secure manufacturing practices, and by design, are self-contained, battery-powered and lack any networking capability. They do not have any wireless or wired internet components and interface. This strengthens the claim that they promise highest level of security.

Over the years, technological innovation has allowed for many improved versions of the EVM. The M3 version comes with the Voter-Verifiable Paper Audit Trail (VVPAT) apparatus. It is an independent system attached with the EVM that allows the voters to verify that their votes are cast as intended. When a vote is cast, a slip is printed on the VVPAT printer containing the serial number, name and symbol of the candidate and remains exposed through a transparent window for 7 seconds. Thereafter, this printed slip automatically gets cut and falls in sealed drop box of the VVPAT. The first instance of usage of VVPAT in India was in 2013 in one constituency in Nagaland. After many pilot projects and small-scale test runs, the instrument has been used all over the country since 2019 Lok Sabha elections.

None of the above (NOTA) option in EVM

In what can be termed as one of biggest landmarks in electoral history of India, the Supreme Court of India while delivering the judgement on a writ petition on September 27, 2013, said, "We direct the Election Commission to provide necessary provision in the ballot papers/EVMs and another button called "None of the Above" (NOTA) may be provided in EVMs so that the voters, who come to the polling booth and decide not to vote for any of the candidates in the fray, are able to exercise their right not to vote while maintaining their right of secrecy." The NOTA option was first used in the 2013 assembly elections held in four states, of which Rajasthan was one. Since then, it has become the only constant symbol and name on the Electronic Voting Machines used in elections. In 2014, usage of NOTA in Rajya Sabha elections was also initiated.

The idea behind incorporating "None of the above" among the electoral options, stems from the belief that if right to vote is a legal right, then the right to reject candidates is also an extension of the fundamental right to speech and expression as mentioned in the constitution. With this incorporation, the proportion of electors that actually turn out to vote can also be meaningfully expanded; those people who do not want to vote for any of the candidates in fray can still exercise their right to vote, a right that ensures the sanctity and firm foundation of world's largest democracy. Further, as the number of NOTA voters rises, political parties will be forced to choose better candidates to field in the election, especially so in extreme cases when NOTA outnumbers any candidate.

Since the inception of NOTA, two Lok Sabha elections and two Vidhan Sabha elections have been held in the district. In the 16th General Election to Lok Sabha, 2014, 6918 and 11293 votes were casted for NOTA on the Ganganagar and Churu seats respectively. In the 17th General Elections to Lok Sabha, 2019, the votes received in favour of NOTA were 15543 in Ganganagar constituency and 9978 in Chittorgarh constituency. In Vidhan Sabha elections of 2013, number of NOTA votes was 2402, 1997, 3495, 2585, and 882 in Sangaria, Hanumangarh, Pilibanga, Nohar and Bhadra Assembly Constituencies respectively. In Vidhan Sabha elections of 2018, number of NOTA votes was 1891, 2215, 2441, 2065 and 2300 in Sangaria, Hanumangarh, Pilibanga, Nohar and Bhadra Assembly Constituencies respectively.

National Voters Service Portal (NVSP) and Voter Helpline mobile application

As a stride towards digitalization and modernization in the electoral process, the National Voter Service Portal (NVSP) was launched on January 25th, 2015, on the occasion of National Voters' Day. NVSP will provide various services via a single window system to electors. Services provided via this platform include – search of name in electoral list, submission of online application for inclusion and rectifications in electoral roll, view the details of polling booth, assembly constituency and parliamentary constituency, contact details of Booth-Level Officer, Electoral Registration Officer and other officers, and attach AADHAR number with the EPIC data. In addition to this, the website contains information about voter awareness in the form of audio-visuals, short films and articles.

In 2018, another step in the same direction was taken up, in the form of the Voter Helpline Mobile Application. Through the application, users can – search the electoral roll by details or by using epic number, register to vote for new voter registration, apply for new voter id card/due to shifting from original assembly constituency or transposition within the assembly, deletion/objection in the electoral roll, correction of entries in the electoral roll, apply online for registration of overseas voters, all types of NVSP forms submission, notification and status update. In addition to these, the application also seeks to enhance voter awareness. It has series of frequently asked questions (FAQs) for a better understanding of the electoral process; news, press releases from Election Commission of India; and profiles and affidavits of contesting candidate profile and affidavit. There is also the facility of Digital Photo Voter Slip which has an encrypted QR code to allow entry to designated polling stations where polling officials establishes the identity of voters through ECI.

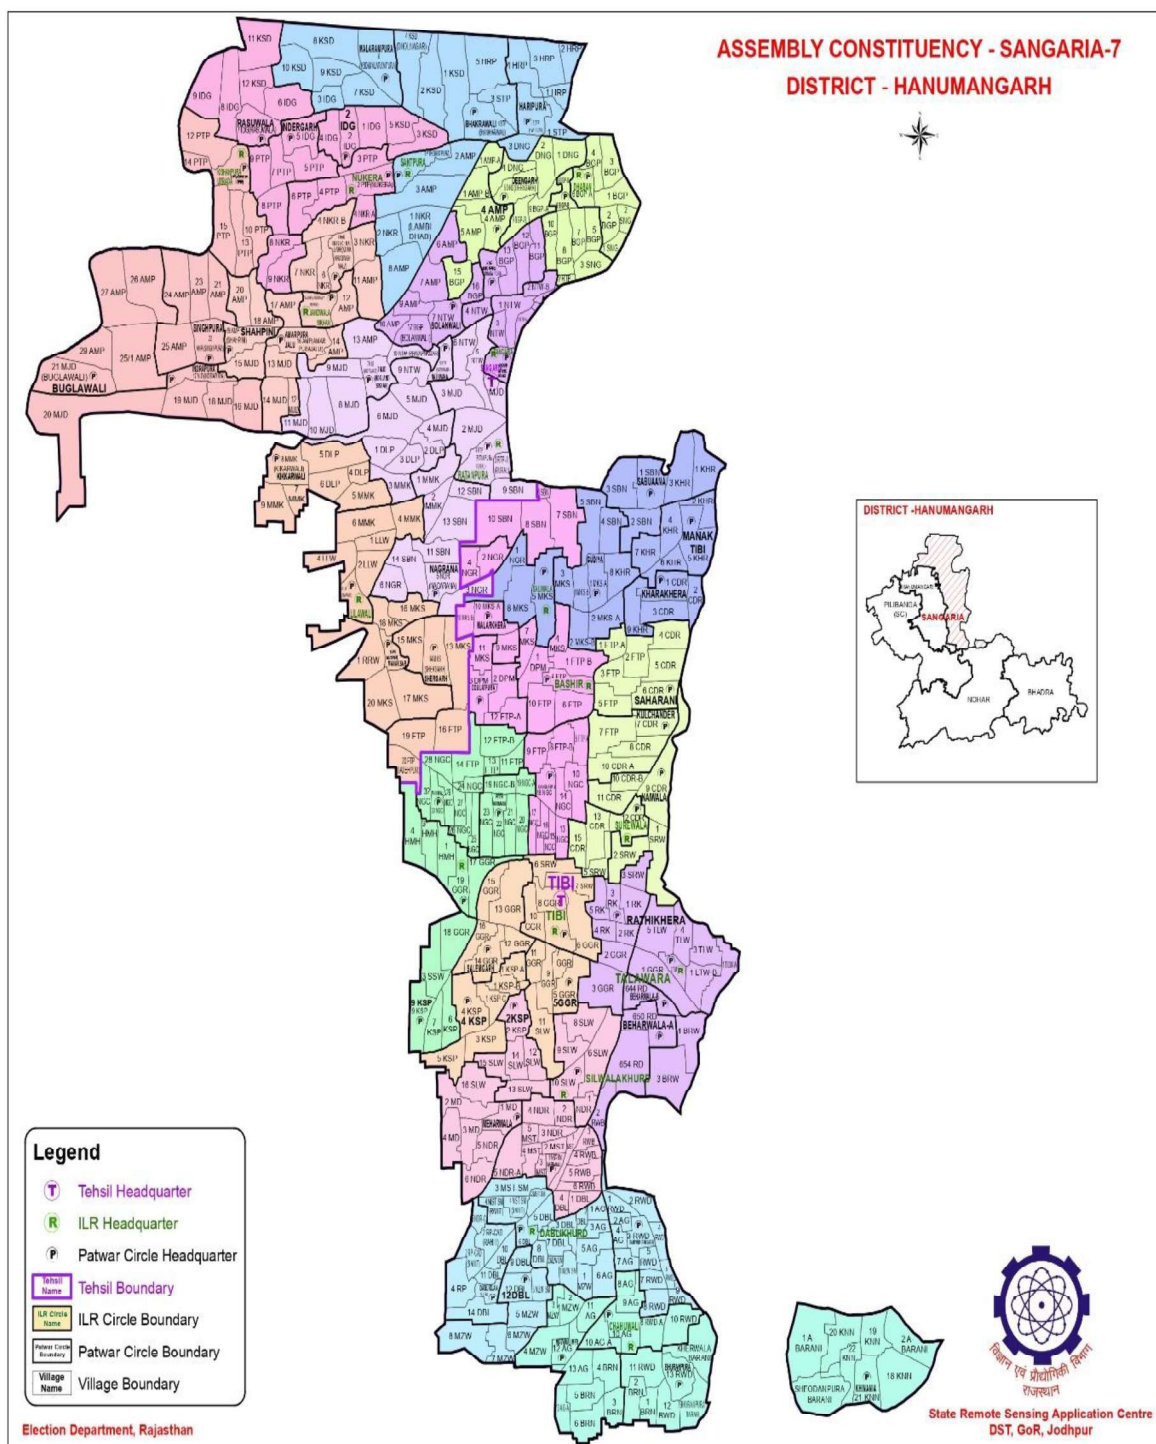

Electoral Registration Officer Network (ERO-NET)⁴⁴

This is a web-enabled system to automate the various sub-processes undertaken in electoral process, like voter registration, field verification of electors, and it provides many other integrated value-added services like decision support system for electoral registration officer, among others. The processing of applications received on the National Voters Service Portal (NVSP) website and Voter Helpline mobile application also happens through the ERO-NET. The application sends alerts and notifications to register voters on interactivity performed here. The Booth-Level Officer (BLO) completes the verification of voters through the application's mobile interface. Electoral Photo Identity Card (EPIC) is also generated from this system. The platform has served in many other ways too – cost of maintaining multiple data centres has been brought down, and migration of voter ID cards has become seamless by giving a unique identification number to each voter which is valid pan-India.

cVIGIL Mobile Application⁴⁵

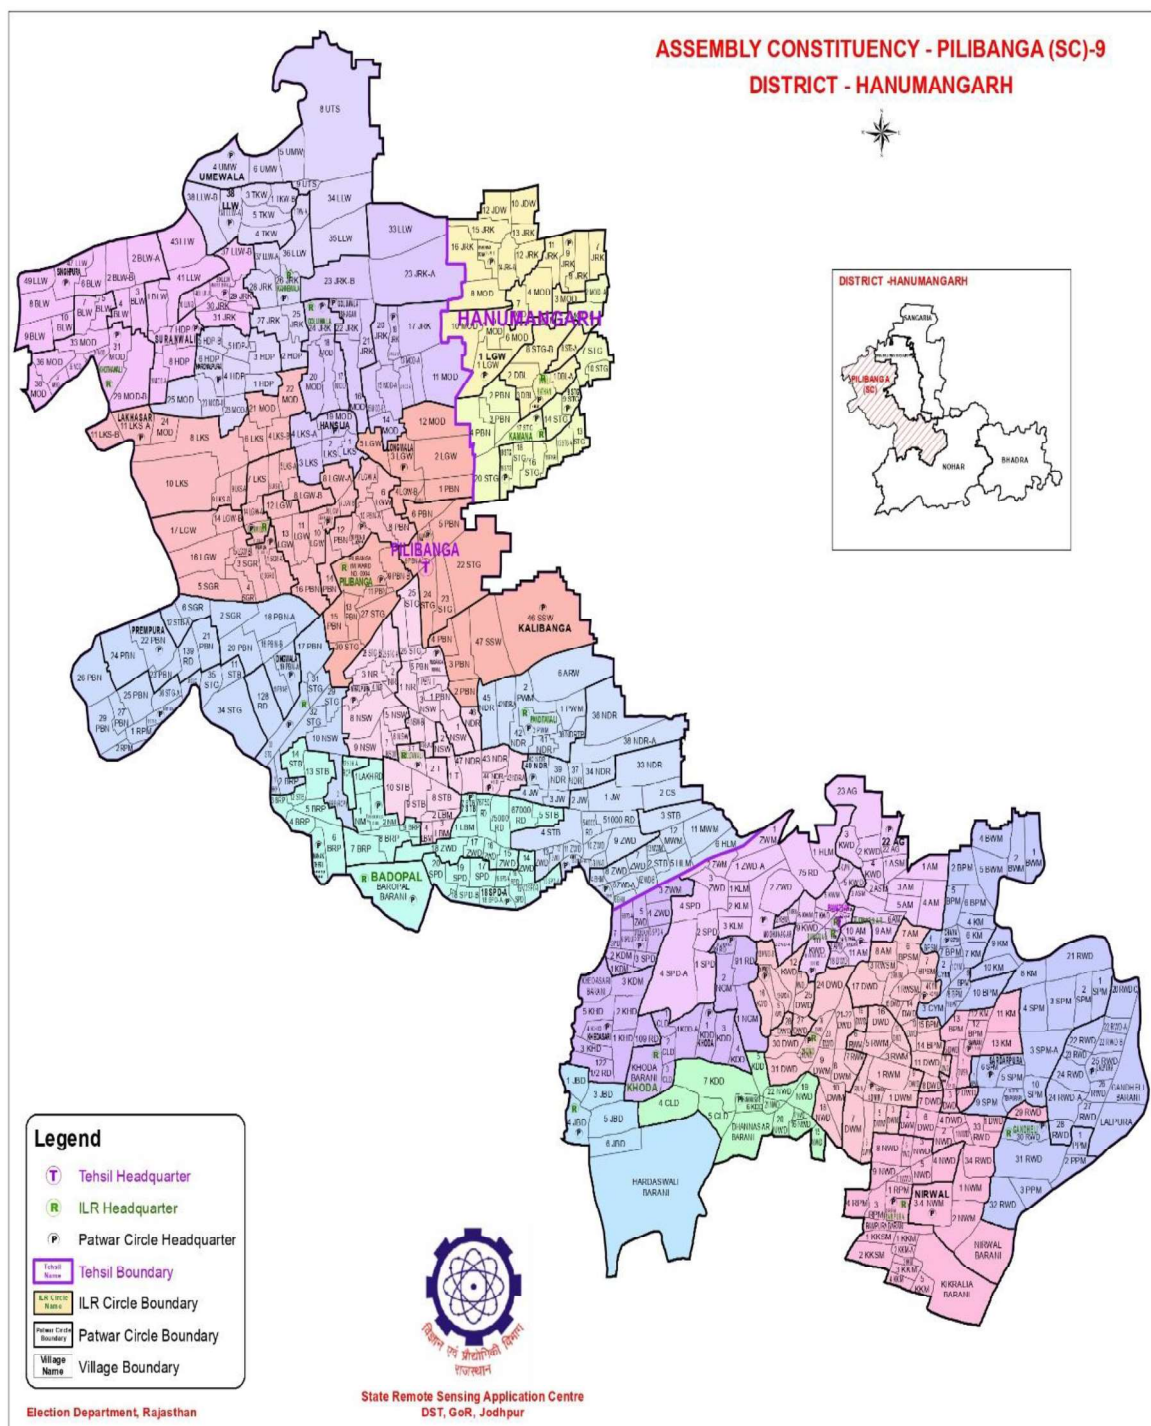

"cVIGIL" is an innovative mobile application for citizens to report Model Code of Conduct and Expenditure violations during the elections. This application is launched by Election Commission of India in 2019. 'cVIGIL' stands for Vigilant Citizen and emphasizes the proactive and responsible role citizens can play in the conduct of free and fair elections. The application can be installed and used on any Android (Jellybean and above) smartphone equipped with a camera, good internet connection, and GPS access. By using this app, citizens can immediately report on incidents of political misconduct within minutes of having witnessed them and without having to rush to the office of the returning officer. cVIGIL connects vigilant citizens with District Control Room, Returning Officer, and Field Unit (Flying Squads) / Static Surveillance Teams, thereby, creating a rapid and accurate reporting, action and monitoring system. Users just need to take a picture or record a 2-minute video of the incident on the application, along with a short description about it. GIS information captured with the complaint automatically flags it to the concerned District Control Room, permitting flying squads to be routed to the spot within few minutes.
