ডঃ পি. বি. সালিম
FROM THE DESK OF DM & DPEO

The 8th Panchayat General Elections are going to be held in the second phase, on 6th July 2013 in our district along with three other districts, namely Malda, Birbhum & Murshidabad of West Bengal. Panchayat General Elections are unique in nature because of simultaneous elections to the three tiers of Panchayats. Because of the mammoth number of constituencies, the total number of candidates competing in these elections, are many times compared to any other election.

This necessitates meticulous planning of all the activities and proper execution of the same at every level for conduct of a successful Panchayat Election. With this in mind we started our preparation for this election from later part of 2012. Having to conduct the elections in the middle of monsoon period is an added challenge, to which we are making detailed contingency plan. During elections various information about the district, sub-division and blocks are always required by all the election managers engaged in the process. I hope this small compilation will be helpful for all of us associated with conduct and management of elections during the days of election.

I am hopeful for conduct of a free, fair and peaceful Panchayat General Election in this district with our dedicated team of election staff BDOs, Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, SDOs, ADMs and Police officials.

Let us rededicate ourselves and make an all out effort in ensuring a free and peaceful election in our district.

31/05/13

(Dr. P.B SALIM IAS)

District Magistrate

District Panchayat Election Officer, Nadia

The entire district lies in the alluvial plain of the Ganga and its tributaries. Most districts in West Bengal take their name from the headquarters station of the district, but Nadia district takes its name not from Krishnagar, the headquarter but from Nadia or Nabadwip hallowed by the memory of Lord Shri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu who was born here on 18th February, 1486. The British district of Nadia was formed in 1787. The present district of Nadia after partition was formed by Notification No.545-GA dated 23rd February, 1948.

Krishnanagar is the most important town of this district, as it is the district headquarter of Nadia. It is on the bank of river Jalangi. The palace of Nadiaraj (Rajbari) built here is a prominent place of tourist attraction though the remnants of the past glory have been eroded and only a dilapidated structure of the exquisite places with carving on its inner walls exists today. Krishnagar is famous for world-class clay models & terracotta works. It can claim a proud tradition for the sweets- Sarpuria & Sarbhaja.

Ranaghat is one of the most important towns of the district on the bank of river Churni and the sub divisional headquarter, situated 74 kilometers north of Kolkata.

Tehatta is another important sub divisional town. It is the newest subdivision in the district of Nadia.

Kalyani is another important town of this district and sub divisional headquarter. It was identified (and named) by Dr. B. C. Roy, Ex Chief Minister of West Bengal and act as an alternative to the city of Kolkata, from which it is about 50 km away. Two Universities (Gen & Agri) are situated in this sub division. ELECTION PLANNING

DM & DPEO holding meeting with all election officials at Head Quarter

Election Planning: Panchayat Election is the most keenly contested election. The rivalry between the candidates remains very high. Special feature of Panchayat General Election are simultaneous election to all the three tiers of Panchayat, separate ballot papers to be issued in three different colours, three different ballot boxes for three tiers and double member Gram Panchayat constituency in some cases where an elector is to cast two votes in a single ballot paper. All these put stress on administration to some extent more than the Parliamentary and Assembly Elections. For this reason meticulous planning is a sine qua non to ensure free, fair and peaceful election.

Keeping this in mind, various cell of Panchayat Election was formed in February 2013. Afterwards with transfer of officers from this district, cell distribution among the officers remains as follows:

Government of West Bengal
Office of the District Magistrate, Nadia
(Panchayat & R. D. Section),
